

Summary Report on LGBT Elder's Gathering April 18, 2010

Background

The Nova Scotia Rainbow Action Project (NSRAP) has worked to support seniors primarily through research initiatives related to health and health service delivery. More recently NSRAP has broadened its focus to include other issues related to seniors. In its broadest sense, NSRAP is a non-profit organization made up primarily of volunteers working toward equity and social justice with specific regard to Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgendered (LGBT) issues. The impetus for this project grew from a recognition that there are few, if any, programs or services for LGBT seniors in Nova Scotia.

In 2003, NSRAP participated in the research project: The Health and Social Service Needs of Gay and Lesbian Seniors and Their Families: An Exploration in Three Canadian Cities. Conducted by the Gay & Lesbian Aging Research Project of McGill University, this study explored the needs and issues related to access and equity in health service delivery for gay and lesbian seniors. Specifically this project found that:

Gay and lesbian people of all ages, (but particularly those who are now 60 years of age and older and who lived their young adult lives at a time of great hostility towards gay and lesbian people), have experienced a variety of discriminatory attitudes and practices in the health care system which have contributed to their reluctance to reveal their identities, voice their concerns to health care practitioners and use health care services. What results is a lack of recognition of gay and lesbian seniors and their caregivers and a system that is unprepared to address their unique needs and realities. (Brotman, S., Ryan, B., & Cormier, R. 2003).

As a result of the findings in this study which will be discussed further below, NSRAP listed the concerns of LGBT seniors as a priority for 2010. Prior to The Health and Social Service Needs of Gay and Lesbian Seniors and Their Families study, NSRAP conducted a community research project on the health-related experiences of LGBT people.

In December of 2009 NSRAP applied for and subsequently received a Positive Aging Grant from the Nova Scotia Department of Seniors to establish programs for LGBT seniors in assisted care facilities and to develop training for care deliverers in one rural and one urban facility in the province.

Project Implementation: Phase 1

In April 2010, NSRAP conducted an LGBT Elder gathering to discuss issues relevant to aging people as well as the initiation of the project. Community participation was encouraged through posters (Appendix A), print media, and social networking. This group was established outside of assisted living facilities with the first meeting taking place at the Company House and subsequent meeting to take place at the Spencer House, which has agreed to participate in this project. The outcomes of the discussions and consultations will be incorporated into the overall plan and will be an integral part of the decision-making process.

The group consisted of over 30 participants and was facilitated by LGBT elder and activist, Lynn Murphy. The group was welcomed by NSRAP and turned over to the facilitator to discuss the issues. During the consultation process small groups gathered initially to discuss general topics for the first half and divided to specific small groups based on interest for the second half. The following is a summary of the April gathering.

The facility must be in accordance with Affirming . A cooperative facility (but not among the residents) possibly with government, St Vincent's Guest House; it needs to be about 30-32 people to be viable.
